THREE FATALLY HURT

Three Trolleys Smash Into Passenger Car Coming From Pen Mar. Wife Gives Blood.

General Manager R. D. Sefton, of the C. G. & W. Trolley Company, of Waynesboro, is dead, and three other persons are injured, as the result of a collision about 8 o'clock last Saturday night between three cars of that line and a passenger trolley on the mountain above Waynesboro. Mr. Sefton, who was acting as relief motorman of the triple decker died in the Washington County Hospital Sunday morning about 2 o'clock, to which place he was rushed from the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Sefton, who accompanied her husband to the hospital in Hagerstown, when it was found that Mr. Sefton was too weak from the loss of blood to operate, submitted to a blood transfusion in an effort to save his life. She gave a pint of her blood. Mr. Sefton, however, was too weak from the shock and never rallied.

Those that are not expected to live are:

T. Raymond Snyder, an employee of the trolley company, left side of face crushed, fractured skull and numerous injuries about the body.

Glen Byers, hotel keeper at Pen Mar, right leg amputated, left leg fractured, and head and body cut and bruised.

Those who were less seriously injured are:

Kernal Fox, employed by the trolley company, was thrown from car, receiving several broken ribs.

Victor McKelvey, Waynesboro, motorman of the first car, cut about face and back of neck, and bruised about body and arms.

Edgar McKelvey, Waynesboro, employee of the company, who was riding on the same car with Mr. Sefton, badly cut and bruised about the face, head and hands. Suffering from shock.

Clayton Philips, a conductor on the car with Victor McKelvey, who was on the front platform of the passenger car. His head was cut, face badly lacerated and one leg sprained.

Earl Baker, Waynesboro, conductor of the first car, cut on face and head.

Earl Shindelecker, Waynesboro, car barn employee, cut on face and head, and bruised about body.

There were 28 persons on the passenger car. All were slightly injured. Rodgers was also a passenger on this car, but it is believed he was on the back platform and probably was caught when the rear of the passenger car caved in.

BERGDOLL WAS IN GETTYSBURG

Passed Through Town Early Saturday Morning. Stopped Near Cashtown.

ASKED THE ROAD WEST

Clarence A. Bream Sure Man in Stutz Racer Was Noted Philadelphia Draft Dodger.

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, known throughout the United States as the premier draft dodger, who escaped from two army sergeants while he was on leave from prison at Fort Jay where he was doing a five year sentence, passed through Gettysburg early Saturday morning and stopped at the farm of Clarence A. Bream, near Cashtown, at 5 o'clock that morning. Bergdoll, who was driving a Stutz racing car, asked Mr. Bream how he could continue on the Lincoln Highway without passing through the towns of Hagerstown and Waynesboro.

Mr. Bream noted the driver of the car resembled the rich Philadelphia but inasmuch as he did not know at that time of the escape thought no more about it. As soon as the news reached him that Bergdoll was gone he called District Attorney Raymond Topper and told him the draft evader had passed through Adams county. A reward of $2,500 has been offered for the capture of the man.

"Somewhere in the hills of Western Maryland is hidden a fortune and its location is known only to Grover Bergdoll," attorneys for Bergdoll told authorities. They intimated that the spot, where $150,000 has been hidden, all that remains of Bergdoll's fortune, is somewhere near Hagerstown. It was to recover this money that he was allowed a furlough of several days from the military prison at Fort Jay, where he was serving a five-year sentence.

It is the belief of Hagerstown authorities, who were notified of Bergdoll's escape that the fortune, if there is anything to the story told by Bergdoll, is hidden somewhere near Hagerstown. While stopping at the Hotel Vivian during the war period, when he was being sought by the army authorities, he kept a big automobile at hand. On several occasions he either left this city by himself or with one of the several alleged draft evaders who were with him. One of these trips was made to Siding Hill, it is understood, while on another occasion he drove to George Alfred Townsend's home, the famous war correspondent, who lived in a veritable palace on the mountain near Gapland. This estate is owned by New York people and it may be somewhere in the mountains near here that spot that he hid the money.

TRACK MEET

The Gettysburg College Track Team appearing at home for the first time this season, lost a hard fought meet to Dickinson on Saturday. Score 67-59.

Dickinson's victory was made possible by the excellent work of Miller who took first in both the 120 and 220 yard hurdles and of Garland, who captured the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Haehlen starred for Gettysburg with a first and two seconds.

The first won by Gettysburg were: 440 yard run, running high jump, broad jump, shot put and discus throw.

The 440 was won by Wertman, running high jump by C. K. Miller, broad jump by Haehlen, shot put by Lerew and the discus throw by Putman.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR HERE

About One Hundred Make Tour of Field.

About one hundred Knights Templar, from the lodge at Easton, made a side trip to Gettysburg today to tour the battlefield, from York, where they are attending the sixty-seventh annual convocation. They arrived in Gettysburg on special train about 9:15 this morning. Immediately upon arrival they were met by cars which conveyed them over the First Day's fight, after which they returned to Hotel Gettysburg for dinner. After dinner they completed their tour of the field and returned to York, leaving Gettysburg at 3:15.

Despite the fog and general inclemency of the weather, they were greatly pleased with the tour and interesting views the local field affords.

IT'S HARD TO DO IN A SMALL TOWN

Young Lady Asks Chamber of Commerce of Keeping Wedding a Secret.

"Could one get married in Gettysburg privately and keep it a secret for some time?"

This is one of many questions touching upon almost any subject that are received from time to time by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce. The above query was sent to the Bureau of Information, Chamber of Commerce, by a young lady living in Stewartstown, New Jersey.

Secretary George Fissel's reply was: "It's pretty hard to keep any thing like that out of THE TIMES".

While the Chamber of Commerce is in existence primarily for the purpose of making Gettysburg a better town its duties have become manifold and its scope very broad.

Among the other questions the young lady asked were:

"How long does one have to have a marriage license in your state before he can be married?"

"Does he have to be a resident of that state?"

"Where should one get his license?"

After consulting several attorneys and a number of Court House officials Secretary Fissel answered all the young lady's questions.

FIRST EVENT OF COMMENCEMENT

Rev. J. B. Baker Tells High School Graduates to Seek Power.

SURE WAYS TO SUCCESS

Ambition, Concentration And Persistence Required. Urges Submission to Will of God.

Gettysburg High School's commencement exercises were auspiciously begun Sunday evening in the St. James Lutheran church when the members of the class, high school faculty and members of the board of directors attended the baccalaureate sermon preached by Rev. J. B. Baker, whose powerful sermon might have been entitled "Sure Ways to Success." A capacity audience was present. Rev. Mr. Baker based his remarks on the ten days of prayer by the disciples at Pentecost emphasizing that the factors for success in those days still hold true now.

"This is Whit Sunday," said Rev. Mr. Baker in launching his sermon, "it is a great day in the church and is set apart for wisdom. It can be a great day for the members of the high school graduating class. Aim high. Ambition killed Caesar and it might have killed the Kaiser, but it has made tens of thousands of successes. Aspire to be more than average people. Aspire to reach the top. Your power is attainable only by study."

"The Panama Canal has reduced the time between the Pacific and the Atlantic oceans; the airplane has reduced the time between New York and London from days to hours, but there is no reduction on the mental highway." The speaker then complimented the class on the large number who intend to enter college and made a strong plea to the students to accept the opportunity that lies so close to them to receive a college education.

Continuing Rev. Mr. Baker said, "Power comes as the result of concentration. He who does many things seldom does anything well. Power is also the result of persistence. Don't let yourselves be sidetracked. Power also comes through association. Individualism is the bane and curse of the world. Great things only can be accomplished by association. The Chinese encyclopedia which was started in 1408 has just been published requiring thousands of volumes. It is the result of the efforts of two thousand educators during six centuries."

"Power came to the disciples because they were in submission to the will of God and so power can come to you. There are two ways of going through life. One is to making a living, the other to make a life. It is for you to decide. Resolve to take power through study and use it gloriously for Him and you will win the well done thou good and faithful servant benediction."

BREAKING BELT SAVES MAN'S LIFE

William H. Kohler, New Oxford, Has Narrow Escape From Death.

A weak spot in a belt saved the life of William H. Kohler, of New Oxford, this morning when the belt on the saw he was using flew off hurling him with terrific force against a building in his lumber yard. As a result of the accident Mr. Kohler, who is a man of sixty five years of age, is suffering from a broken right leg between the knee and the ankle and severe bruises.

The injured man was sawing wood at his lumber yard using a gasoline engine to furnish the power. The engine was placed inside the building and the saw on the outside. The belt connected the two through slits cut in the wall of the structure. Mr. Kohler was standing near the saw when the belt flew off. He became entangled and was drawn rapidly into the building. The force of his body striking the building broke the belt and saved his life.

Men who rushed to his assistance say had the belt not broken nothing could have saved Mr. Kohler from being torn to pieces.

He is resting comfortably under the care of Dr. J. H. Sheets, although suffering from the shock.

VETERANS WALK TO IOWA HOME

Wounded Soldiers Said They Had Been Turned Out of Hospital.

Two wounded veterans of the World War telling a sad story of how they had been sent to the United States Public Health Hospital at Norfolk, Massachusetts, for treatment as disabled soldiers under the compensation act and then were turned out penniless, passed through Gettysburg Sunday making their way the best they could to their homes in Iowa. They were Edward Clydesdale, of Pittsburgh, and Charles W. Sheely, of Vinton Iowa.

These men who have been discharged for some time never fully recovered from wounds they received in France, they said, and were ordered to report to the Massachusetts Hospital for treatment. When they arrived at the hospital they were told no treatment could be given them and that the laws provided no funds for their return home.

Clydesdale claimed he is suffering from an infection received from a serum injected in France for the prevention of typhoid and that he is subject to fits. Sheely was thrown from a truck by the explosion of a shell while at the front and suffered a concussion of the brain from which he never recovered.

Both said they were unable to do hard work. They left Norfolk May 11.

BIGLERVILLE EXERCISES

Members of the graduating class of the Biglerville High School attended the first of the commencement week services Sunday night when they heard the baccalaureate sermon preached by Rev. S. F. Tholan in the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Biglerville. Rev. Mr. Tholan chose for his subject "The Forward Look", basing his remarks on Daniel, 6:10. His sermon was a powerful presentation filled with advice to the young men and women who are entering a broader sphere of life.

The program consisted of an anthem by the choir, "God of Our Fathers", hymns, "He Leadeth Me" and "Awake My Soul." Eight High School girls sang "The Lord is My Shepherd." Mrs. Arthur Snyder, of Canton, Ohio, sang a solo.

ROBBERS MAKE HAUL

(By Associated Press) Pittsburgh, May 24—The First National bank at Finleyville, Pa., near here, was held up and robbed shortly after noon today by six men who escaped, according to word received here by the police.

The bandits are said to have escaped with $100,000 in bonds and securities and $15,000 in cash. The cashier who was the only man in the bank at the time is reported to have been knocked unconscious and locked in the vault while the institution was rifled. A sheriff's posse has gone in pursuit.

MORE WATER TESTS

Health Authorities Continue Search for Typhoid Germs.

Dr. Bruce McCreary, of Shippensburg, a representative of the State Board of Health, is in town today continuing the efforts of the health men to trace the source of the typhoid fever epidemic. Health Officer John Deatrick, of Biglerville, took seven samples of water from various hydrants and sent them to Philadelphia for analysis.

Several suspected cases have fallen through and the doctors are convinced their first analysis of the case is correct.

LAST TAPS FOR THREE VETERANS

Rev. Harry Daniels Preaches Strong Sermon to Grand Army.

MANY JOIN IN SERVICE

More Than Forty Civil War Soldiers Attend the Annual Memorial Day Exercises.

More than three hundred persons joined with forty veterans of the Civil War Sunday afternoon in the post room to pay tribute to the members of the Corporal Skelly Post, 9, of the Grand Army of the Republic, who died during the past year.

Rev. Harry Daniels pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, speaker for the occasion, delivered the strongest patriotic sermon the veterans have heard in many years. Mr. Daniels with his characteristic earnestness thrilled the large assembly as he pictured the heroic spirit of America as it was manifested in the Revolution, Civil, Spanish-American and World Wars, paying the highest tribute to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic who represent most truly the idea of American patriotism.

As Theodore McAllister read the names of the three men who died during the past year taps were played on a muffled drum. Their war records were ordered placed in the archives of the post for future reference by Post Commander Isenberg.

Those who answered the last great roll call since last May were: Simon P. Stover, who died July 28, served with Company C, Third Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery and was a member of the local post for many years.

Wilson Eyer died October 4. He fought with Company G, Two Hundred and Second Pennsylvania Infantry which was a member of General Hartraft's heroic division. He was for a long time a member of the Fairfield post and became a member of the Corporal Skelly post when the Fairfield post disbanded.

George W. Weikert, who died December 23, was a member of Company C, First Battalion, Maryland Cavalry. He was discharged from the service during the war for disability. He was a charter member of the Corporal Skelly Post.

"It has long been the dream of the human race," said Mr. Daniels in introducing his address, "that they could remain alive for those who were to follow. The purpose of this meeting is to keep alive the deeds done and the great things accomplished under the American flag."

"We here today represent more than the Grand Army of the Republic—we represent the spirit of America which has been the foundation of this

FRENCH CHIEF FELL FROM TRAIN

President Deschanel, of French Republic, Has Narrow Escape.

FOUND BY TRACKWALKER

Fall Was Accidental. Was Trying to Raise Window. Plunged From Moving Car.

(By Associated Press) Mont Argis, France, May 24—Paul Deschanel, president of the French republic, fell from a window of his train when it was a short distance from here last night. The train was moving at the time but after his fall M. Deschanel walked a mile and a quarter in the darkness until he met a trackwalker.

The workman accompanied the president to a signal station nearby and telephoned to this city for an automobile which arrived within half an hour.

M. Deschanel upon his arrival here received first medical attention some two or three hours after the accident. Physicians found he suffered no injuries sufficient to cause anxiety although he was bruised and lacerated.

The physicians at noon issued the following communique:

"The President was slightly wounded in the face and left leg but his condition is as satisfactory as possible and causes no anxiety."

President Deschanel explained that he had been unable to sleep in his compartment of the private car in which he was traveling because of the heat and that shortly after the train had pulled out of Montargis he tried to open a window to secure more ventilation.

The window stuck and M. Deschanel said he applied all his strength to open it. Then suddenly the window gave way and he pitched out of the car onto the track in the darkness, the train going on.

The president suffered a severe attack of gripe Saturday night and it had been questioned for a time if the journey to Mont Brison where he was to dedicate a monument to Senator Raymond, a French aviator killed during the war, should not be cancelled.

The president, however, had insisted on making the journey.

STOCK REPORT

Recoveries Follow First Setback On Market.

(By Associated Press) New York, May 24—Recoveries of 1 to 2 points succeeded the first setback in the stock market this morning but these were cancelled when the liquidation of oils became more extensive. Mexicans increased their initial losses and with active motor shares dropped 2 to 6 points. Steels were subjected to further pressure, Crucible was the center of another drive losing 6 points, while Republic and Vanadium declined 3 points each. Reversals included rails at 1 to 2 point reactions. American woolen was weakest of prominent specialties losing 3 points. A six per cent opening rate for call money and steadiness of foreign exchange exerted little influence.

WOOD MAN TESTIFIES

Says Campaign Was Financed By General's Supporters.

(By Associated Press) Washington, May 24—Frank H. Hitchcock one of Major General Leonard Wood's campaign managers told the Senate investigating committee today that so far as he knew the largest sum spent in any state by the Wood organization was $15,000 in New Jersey. He added that the next largest was $12,500 in Maryland. Mr. Hitchcock said that in New York as in a number of other states "the Wood supporters" financed their own campaign in their own way "without asking assistance from the Wood organization."

WAGES NOT CONSIDERED

(By Associated Press) Washington, May 24—The $1,017,000,000 additional revenue the railroads are seeking through an increase in freight rates does not take into consideration the increase in wages which the railroad labor board may grant to the two million railroad men, Howard Elliott, assistant railway executive stated today before the Interstate commerce commission.

HE WAS VICTIM OF TREACHERY

Men Who Killed Carranza Volunteered to Protect Him.

SIXTY MADE PRISONERS

Escort Makes Defense. Herrero Wanted to Kill Only Carranza and Bonillas.

Mexico City, May 24—A dispatch received from Juan Barragan, chief of staff of President Carranza, says Carranza met his death at the hands of Gen. Rodolfo Herrero's forces at Tlaxcalantongo. The dispatch did not give the exact date.

The dispatch follows:
"Villa Juarez, State of Puebla, May 22.

"To General Alvaro Obregon:
"Referring to your telegram of this date, Herrero joined the column at Patla, professing loyalty. Arriving at Tlaxcalantongo, Herrero offered hospitality to Carranza, placing sentinels who knew the terrain. At 4 o'clock in the morning his men, abusing the confidence imposed in them, surrounded the shelter where Carranza was sleeping, firing their rifles furiously into the hut. Every one offered resistance, although with the natural demoralization caused by the unexpected attack.

"Gen. Francisco Murguia fought valiantly in the obscurity (semi-darkness), repulsing the traitors, who surprised the defenders when they were leaving their shelters to attack the enemy.

Sixty Surrendered

"The unexpectedness of the attack enables us to clear our military honor. The defense was general to such an extent that the attackers were forced to take 60 prisoners, among them Mario Mendez, Paulino Fontes, Gil Garias, Gen. Heliodoro Perez, Col. Che Gomez, General Villala and Carranza's military aid.

"Mendez formerly was director of the national telegraph lines; Fontes was former director of national railways, and Senor Garias was Carranza's private secretary.

"Our conscience is clear. Our grief for the death of the President is inconsolable. We are satisfied that we did not abandon him for one moment.

"The few men wounded and dead is explained by the fact that the attackers planned their crime, knowing the place where the President, who had placed his confidence in Herrero, was sleeping. The loyalty and courage of the President's followers were useless against the treason of those criminals."

The message was signed by Barragan and Mariano Gonzales, Federico Montes, Francisco De H. Maria and others.

The flags on the American Embassy and all the other embassies and legations were placed at half-mast when the news of the assassination of President Carranza arrived.

Only Two Killed

President Carranza and Gen. Morales Molina were the only persons killed at Tlaxcalantongo, according to newspaper dispatches received here today. Gen. Rodolfo Herrero is quoted by the dispatches as saying that he only desired to kill Carranza and Ygnacio Bonillas. Gen. Morales Molina conducted the military trial of Gen. Roberto F. Cejudo, former commander-in-chief of the forces of Emiliano Zapata in Hidalgo, who was accused of dealing with the rebels. He is said to have been mistaken for Bonillas.

The dispatches add that the three generals and two members of the Carranza cabinet who at first were reported to have been killed have disappeared and probably are in hiding.

ARENDTSTOWN LOSES

Hanover High Makes Use of Arendtsville Blunders.

The Arendtsville Vocational Nine met defeat at the hands of Hanover High at Hanover on Saturday, to the tune of a 10 to 8 score, after having defeated Hanover on the Arendtsville diamond by a score of 10 to 5.

Errors by Snyder, Wert Kane, Wierman, Orner and Boyer in the third were responsible for the defeat, as they allowed Hanover 3 runs. The balance of the game was played air tight. Deardorff, pitching for Arendtsville, allowed but 5 hits, and had it not been for the errors, would have easily defeated his opponents.

Captain Wierman secured three of Arendtsville's nine hits. Deardorff and Kane each came through with two.

Bender pitching for Hanover had but two strike-outs to his credit while Deardorff struck out seven of Hanover's batters.

NEGRO KILLS MAN; ATTACKS GIRL

Holds Up Couple Near Alexandria. Prisoner Admits Guilt.

Washington, May 24—Reports sent out from Washington last night that a detachment of cavalry from Fort Myer had been called out to disperse "a mob of more than 1,000 persons" which surrounded the jail at Alexandria courthouse attempting to obtain possession of William Turner, the negro accused of murder and assault, were denied by Sheriff Clements. Col. Rivers, at Fort Myer, said over the phone:

"The Alexandria county jail is within 400 yards of my house and my information is that there is not any gathering or mob there. I have recently been in touch with Sheriff Clements at the jail and he said everything was all right, but that he had only one man at the jail besides himself and he felt rather lonely. As a matter of precaution I have bundled eight soldiers into a truck and sent them to the jail. This has been done as a matter of precaution. There is no foundation so far as I am aware for any story that there is any mob at the jail.

"The jail is not at Alexandria, but within close range pistol shot of our barracks at Fort Myer. The eight soldiers I have sent to the county jail, at the request of the sheriff, and as a matter of precaution, should be able to furnish ample protection. We are close enough to send reinforcements on a moment's notice. From the looks of things just now no such thing will have to be done."

ORPHEUM THEATER BURNS TO GROUND

Chambersburg Suffers $80,000 Fire Loss Sunday Morning.

Fire, which broke out under the stage of the Orpheum Theatre, Chambersburg's largest playhouse about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, totally destroyed the structure, entailing a loss estimated at $80,000. But $15,000 insurance was carried on the building.

The fire is believed by many persons, to have either been started by defective wiring or by persons who have thrown a cigarette on the floor. It is understood that a number of young men had been playing games in the part of the theatre where the fire started.

The theatre was a magnificent structure, with a seating capacity of 1,000 persons. It was at this theatre that all of the large road shows were staged.

For a time the fire threatened to spread to adjoining property and a call was sent to the Chambersburg fire department. Several of the companies held their fire apparatus in readiness, but a later call stated that the blaze was under control.

It is not likely that the theatre will be rebuilt, but it is understood that a handsome new playhouse will be immediately erected on the site of the former Rosedale Opera House.

LION ON RAMPAGE IN-CITY HOTEL

Guest Brings Pet With Him From Washington. In With Roar.

HURRY CALL FOR POLICE

Order of Fifteen Pounds of Beefsteak Makes Clerk Suspicious. Quiet as Kitten.

New York, May 24—Assured that the management of the Hotel Belvedere, one of the fashionable hostelrys of New York, "had no objection to pets," Thomas Zann, of Leavenworth, Wash., arrived Saturday with a large case big enough to carry a piano in. He took possession of the three-room suite placed at his disposal, these being on the second floor.

Sunday Zann called the room clerk and casually ordered 15 pounds of raw beefsteak. The room clerk was a trifle alarmed. Inasmuch as he could conceive of no Belvedere guest dining on 15 pounds of raw beefsteak and figuring that no matter how black an eye it would not require that much raw meat, he called Elbert Flather, manager of the hotel.

Mr. Flather called Mr. Zann. "What do you want with this much raw meat?" he asked. "I want to make a necktie out of it," was the reply. But Flather was not to be put off. He knocked at the door of Zann's room, placing behind him Andrew Szczepnowska, a waiter, who carried the steaks.

Greeted By a Roar

A roar deep and anticipatory greeted them. It is declared that Andrew Szczepnowska's hair stood on end. Eye-witnesses maintain that Andrew touched but one step in his descent down to the floor below. Flather grabbed a telephone.

"Send policemen," he implored. "Send a whole flock of policemen. We need them, we need them very, very badly. Tell them to bring artillery. We have the biggest lion in the world at our hotel. All the guests will be eaten alive."

Patrolman Burns was dispatched to the scene. Mr. Zann opened the door and admitted the policeman and hotel manager. A magnificent Nubian lion was in the center of the room. Half a steak hung from his moist chops. His tail stiffened when he saw the policeman.

"I want that lion put out and that man arrested," said Manager Flather. "Where will we put them," asked Burns.

"I don't care where you put them," replied the manager. "You can send them to H-1."

Just at this moment the lion emitted a terrific roar. The policeman jumped, so did the hotel manager.

"Him And Jim"

Finally Officer Burns telephoned to headquarters for orders. The man in charge there could find nothing in the books about lions in hotels on Sundays and so Policeman Burns was unable to help the hotel people out of their dilemma. After a while Zann agreed to keep the animal in its cage and not permit it to roam about the rooms, and there the matter ended—for the time being.

Zann explained that "Jim," the lion, and he had been pals for two years. The lion is only four years of age and is altogether housebroken, according to its master. He roars at large wherever Zann happens to be putting up, and there have been times when they slept in the same bed. "I always keep him in my room when I'm asleep," said Zann, who is here awaiting a vessel that will take him to South Africa—him and Jim.

"I'd like to see them pinch Jim and me," said the lion man last night after the fuss had died away. "It's a shame to even think of locking the poor fellow up. He's just like a baby and I won't stand for him being mistreated. I'm getting out of this place in the morning. I'm going to another hotel where the management knows how to treat lions with due respect."

OFFER REWARD FOR BERGDOLL

His Attorneys Make Effort to Get Army Draft Dodger.

Washington, May 24—Attorneys for Grover C. Bergdoll, convicted draft evader, who escaped in Philadelphia Friday, offered a reward of $2,500 last night for his apprehension and delivery to any military post or station.

The following statement, signed by D. Clarence Gibboney, of Philadelphia, and Ansell and Bailey, of Washington, attorneys instrumental in obtaining Bergdoll's release from Fort Jay military prison to recover money which he claimed to be secreted in the mountains near Philadelphia, was issued from the office of the latter firm:

"We hereby offer a reward of $2,500 to any person for the apprehension and delivery to the proper military authorities at any military post station of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, an escaped military prisoner. The reward will be paid immediately upon receipt of official notice from the Adjutant General of the Army, by either of the undersigned (the two law firms) of the delivery of the prisoner into military custody and of the name of the person entitled to the reward."

At the office of Ansell & Bailey, it was said Sunday night, that not the slightest clue had been obtained as to Bergdoll's whereabouts.

TRYING TO CLEAR UP WAR RECORDS

Forty Five Officers Now on Road For This Purpose.

Washington, D. C., May 24—Forty five officers are now on the road for the Service and Information Branch of the War Department, trying to clear up the problems of ex-service men who have not yet been reached.

In a letter to one of the ex-officers an ex-service man writes: "I am one of the ex-service men being treated in the army hospital. I am the one you found writing in the dining room during your visit to the hospital. You took such an interest in my case with regard to the unjust compensation given me. I have seen so much injustice with regard to this compensation business, and have had the blues many times on account of it. The doctor says I cannot return to my former occupation. I must live out in the open, and only do light work. So is there any wonder that I get the blues so often and wish that I, too, might be lying in Flanders' fields? I thank you for what you have done for me. If I still have trouble, I am going to call on you to help me again."

This letter is only one of hundreds of the same purport since the nationwide attempt to reach by personal contact the veterans who still feel that their individual problems are not solved. Insurance, compensation, vocational training, free hospital treatment, missing Liberty bonds, unpaid allotments, a job—these are only a few activities of the Service and Information field force, who are traveling from community to community throughout the country, in an earnest endeavor to help the ex-soldier.

$16 SHOES FOR $7.75

Kansas City, Mo., May 24—Almost without exception, Kansas City dealers in wearing apparel quoted prices in their advertisements in Saturday's papers at reductions ranging from ten to sixty per cent.

The most horizontal declines are, in one of the leading department stores, in women's silk hose and women's shoes, $4 to $6 grades, the former being offered for $1.95, and shoes "formerly priced up to $16" for $7.75.

An exclusive shoe store places its entire stock on sale from $5 downward. The demands for advertising space, according to the advertising managers of the papers, has amounted to a clamor.

IT WAS A HARD PULL

Took Three Teams And a Truck to Pull Tourist Out.

It required three teams of horses and an automobile truck to pull the car of H. A. Budd, of Erie, out of the mud on the detour between here and Biglerville. Mr. Budd, who was on his way to Washington and Baltimore, slipped from the road when he turned out to pass another car Saturday night. For five hours men worked to free the car which was embedded up to the running board. The tourist decided to take no more chances with Pennsylvania roads during the open season for detours and returned toward Erie Sunday.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON

The Baccalaureate Services of the Arendtsville Vocational School were held in the Arendtsville Reformed Church on Sunday evening.

The musical program consisted of an anthem by the church choir in addition to several hymns. A special selection was rendered by the Junior class of the school.

Rev. Hesson preached the sermon to the graduates on the following text: "The Prize of Life," in which he urged them to choose some definite course or vocation in life and to follow that. He endeavored to show them what success could be attained by following a course of this kind and how little can be gained by continually jumping from one thing to another without giving time to familiarize themselves with one particular line, or to specialize for a definite end.

country. We must recognize the fact that this country has been led by the hand of the Almighty.

"When this country rebelled against the mother country there were only three million persons living in the thirteen colonies along the Atlantic seacoast and yet they hurled a challenge against the greatest nation the world had ever known, a nation that governed one-fifth of the civilized world, a nation with the largest army and navy and yet under the providence of God and under the command of George Washington the untrained soldiers of the colonies hurled back the British forces and made possible for the coming generations the Declaration of Independence. No one can deny God in a miraculous and mysterious way brought victory for us when defeat stared us in the face.

"During the first two days of the Battle of Gettysburg, I am told, the fight was won by the Confederates. Then came a sudden turn, Lee was put to flight and the Union saved."

Speaking directly to the veterans present, Mr. Daniels said:

"You have created a sentiment or something in our hearts that is indefinable but which will live for the generations that are to come. You make us feel that something worthwhile has been accomplished.

"Before the World War we seemed to have lost our ideals, we allowed ourselves to be the recipients of indignities, our ships were sunk and the flag insulted and we wrote notes about it. Then came the strong wave of public opinion which said to the rulers at Washington you must fight or get out.

"You recall how the British were being driven back, the Channel ports were open and there was an unrestricted submarine warfare. The French were being pushed and were within thirty five miles of Paris.

"Then the Yanks went into action. On the twelfth of July troops of the United States actually entered the fight on the Marne. The great Hun tidal wave of oppression struck something that caused it to stop, then turn, then run and then plead for mercy.

"It was such deeds as this that has caused you to hold a meeting like this."

TO MAP FORESTS FROM AIR

State's Timber to be Studied by New Plan.

Pennsylvania's forests may be mapped from an aeroplane. Gifford Pinchot, the chief State forester, today announced that he had asked for estimates by a commercial aerial concern, and if the cost is not prohibitive the project will be undertaken.

Commissioner Pinchot explained that no map showing the distribution of timberland in this State, private and State-owned, exists. He declared there was need for such a map in order to show the citizens the vast extent of the potential timberlands, and also to impress upon the public the enormous territory of 5,000,000 acres occupied by the "Pennsylvania Desert." This is the territory that has been lumbered and burned-over so often that it is producing virtually nothing of value.

SHOES OF SEA LION SKIN

British Columbia Fishermen to Hunt the Beasts on Large Scale.

Prince Rupert, B. C., May 24—Premier John Oliver's suggestion that sea lions in this province be slaughtered and their skins used for making shoes has met with approval of fishermen here, and plans were under way Saturday for killing the animals on a large scale. Fishermen pointed out that killing of sea lions will save the fish in these waters, for the average sea lion devours 50 pounds of food fish in a day.

One fisherman recently killed 700 sea lions, with the aid of three companions, in two days, on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

FAIR WILL COST MORE

LOVE LAUGHS AT AGE

Georgetown, Del., May 24—That love laughs at age as well as locksmiths, was clearly demonstrated recently at Bridgeville, when Alonzo J. Scott, aged 75, a farmer of near Corderdale Cross Roads, and Miss Lydia King, aged 65, of Bridgeville, were married by Rev. Thomas E. Terry, at Bridgeville.

CANNERS CALCULATE

Want System For Price Basis For Produce.

Representatives of canning interests in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Ohio and Indiana Saturday discussed with agricultural officials of state and national governments, agricultural experiment station experts and others the steps necessary to establish a uniform method of calculating cost of farm products so that farmers will have a base sale price system. Tomatoes, which are very extensively raised for canning in the states represented, were used as a basis and a schedule worked out containing many items of cost in detail. They comprised the labor, land investment, seed, fertilizer and other factors and it is the idea to make the system applicable to any crop and give the farmer what he has never had before.

In a statement issued the conference declared it was not interested in recommendations of prices, but in having the farmers, growers and canners get together on a basis which would give a reasonable profit to each and promote mutual understanding.

The speakers included Secretary of Agriculture Fred Rasmussen and J. C. Gilbert, acting director of the State Bureau of Markets; William Silver, of Aberdeen, Md., representing the national organization of canners; Dr. F. P. App, New Jersey; C. C. Woodbury, Indiana, and H. C. Thompson, New York.

LEAVE IT TO UNCLE

CZAR'S FAMILY ALL DEAD

Affidavit of Grand Duchess Disposes of Rumors of Escape.

London, May 24—Various stories, which have been current regarding certain members of the Russian royal family having escaped the massacre in which the former Czar met death, would appear to be disposed of by an affidavit filed in the London probate registry Saturday by Grand Duchess Xenia Alexandrovna, wife of Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch and sister of the late Czar.

The Grand Duchess has been living in London, and letters of administration had been granted her for the English estate of the former Czar, totaling 500 pounds ($2500). The affidavit of the Grand Duchess asserts that the Czar "died on July 16, 1918, at Ekaterinburg," and adds that he died intestate, "leaving no widow or child."

ASLEEP ON WINE CARGO

Driver Stalled With 25 Barrels Destined for This City.

Plainfield, N. J., May 24—An auto truck loaded with 25 barrels of Italian wine, en route from New York to a Philadelphia chemist, was found stalled on Prospect avenue, Saturday, and Cornelius Donohue, the driver, was asleep on the truck. Donohue said he had been engaged by the Greenwich Transportation Company, New York, to transport the wine to Philadelphia, and while waiting for a truck to come along to give him a lift he fell asleep.

Donohue had no permit to transport the wine and was taken to headquarters. Saturday afternoon a messenger from New York came here with the necessary permit, and Donohue was released.

(Medical Advertising) SENATOR LEGG ENDORSES MANTONE

Noted Statesman Lauds Dr. John McDonald's Famous Prescription.

Prominent men and women join with physicians, chemists and medical authorities in praising "Mantone," the famous prescription of Dr. John McDonald, of Washington, N. C., which is now being introduced in this city with such tremendous success.

One of the finest tributes ever given a medicine is that of the Hon. J. H. C. Legg, Senator from Maryland, who in a signed statement said:

"I have tried Mantone, and while I have only used it a week, I already feel much better. I was not in very good shape when I began taking Mantone, and while I have not yet finished the course of treatment, I feel indeed very much benefited, and by the time I do finish the treatment, I expect to feel like a new man, judging by the single week's trial."

Senator Legg's endorsement is only one of hundreds of unsolicited testimonials from men and women in all walks of life.

In "Mantone" Dr. McDonald has scientifically combined strength-making iron, nerve-building phosphorus, nux vomica and other health-building properties. Countless men and women, who, after passing 38 or 40 are broken in health, simply because their blood lacks iron and their nerves are starving for phosphorus. They need the health-compelling properties of "Mantone" to make rich, red blood, steady nerves, iron muscles and to restore youthful vigor, strength and bring back the bloom of health to their cheeks.

MANTONE

If you are one of those unfortunate individuals who have neglected your health, don't continue going through life feeling weak, dragged-out nervous, irritable or a burden to yourself and family, but get "Mantone" today. You will actually feel yourself grow stronger, more vigorous and energetic each day. Note how much better you sleep, how much harder and steadier you can work without feeling tired, how fresh and vigorous you always feel and how easily and coolly you solve your daily problems. Get "Mantone" at your drugist's. Price $1.00. Guaranteed—no benefit—no cost. Sold at People's Drug Store and Red Cross pharmacy.

Ostensibly she is here to further her studies in nursing and medicine.

in Thrilling Diamond Battle.

Just to show the local populace that they had some good baseball in their systems and that the Frederick defeat was fluky the high school baseball team rose on its hind legs and pawed the Dickinson College Reserves down to a 8-7 defeat in ten innings.

Everything that includes a game of baseball was included in the ten periods of play. Slugging, clever baserunning, snappy fielding, tight pitching, loose pitching, poor fielding all had a chance at determining the final score.

The team was in a patched up condition but showed no outward appearance of it. H. Armor was in right field on account of a disabled hand, and Weikert was on third; Hunter did the receiving because of Peters' illness; B. Armor held down the key-stone sack with a pair of bad ribs the result of close contact with a Frederick pitcher's delivery.

Two justly famed athletes must come in for the lion's share of the credit for the victory. One is the old reliable Hunter, who performed behind the pan like a "Bill Killefer". All he did was to save the game twice by pegs to third, twice put outs at home and then finally won it by soaking out a three bagger in the tenth and score the deciding run on Martin's third hit. The old battle-scarred high school veteran "Ducky" Armor was the other hero of the day. He gave the best exhibition of playing the outfield that has been seen on that team this year. Although he was busier than a one-armed paper-hanger in right field he sometimes went far out of his territory to snare in a fly or to back up another fielder.

Story of Game.
Each scored one run in the first, and the locals took the lead by scoring the second. Dickinson tied it in their half of the third and the locals regained the lead by also scoring one in their half of the same round. In the sixth the visitors again tied it but the locals got sore and sent across four by three hits, an error and a hit batsman. Dickinson got one in the seventh on two hits and two outs and evened it up in the eighth when Shahade the first up doubled and scored when Shmuckler allowed Tenenbaum's fly to go over his head when he misjudged it. He scored on Pritchard's triple who in turn scored on Jester's out to the infield. In the ninth Collins started off with a two-bagger. With none out, he practically lost the game for them when he tried to steal third. Hunter nailed him with a lightning throw, and Sheely forced Gray to ground out to second and famed Douglass. In the tenth they again started off troublesome. Shahade got to second on Oyler's error. He turned his ankle sliding in three and had a runner, who went to third on Tenenbaum's out. Pritchard fled out to H. Armor who by a lightning return to Hunter caught the man on third attempting to score. In the local half of the tenth Hunter started it off with a screaming triple over the Centerfielder's head. He scored on "Bob" Martin's hit over second base.

Sheely pitched a good game although the Dickinson players found no real trouble in hitting his delivery they failed to "hit where they ain't". In the pinches he was particularly strong and that saved him. Weikert played a good game at third while "Buck" Armor played gilt-edged ball at second. Fir Dickinson Shahade was their best bet. They had a very formidable innerworks and only clean hitting and brainy baserunning won the game for the locals.

COLLEGE GOING STRONG

The rapidly moving College baseball aggregation annexed another to the victory side of the column last Saturday afternoon at Lancaster when they swamped the Franklin and Marshall club under the avalanche of extra base hits. F. and M. contributed to their own downfall by making twelve errors. Wise at no time was in danger letting the Lancaster collegian down with three hits.
Plovman, the Hanover boy, was the hitting fiend for Gettysburg, having a home run and a three base hit to his credit. The local team played errorless ball. Third Baseman Bright

Indian Newlyweds, Aboard 'Special Car'
Start Out on Their Honeymoon Journey

Primitive As Ever, with Most of His Forefathers' Picturesqueness Gone, Nation's Red Man Presents Problem Which Interchurch World Movement Will Try to Help Solve.

HERE is a newly-made Happy Pair starting on their wedding journey aboard a chummy roadster of the hay-burning type. While the bride's veil is correct, if a bit practical, it is seen that the bridegroom is attired in conventional blue drill jumper and overalls, to say nothing of a week's growth of beard.

None of the glamor and fancy dress of the primitive Indian weddings is retained by these thousands of red men in the American Southwest who have failed both to retain the old picturesqueness and independence of the aborigines and to acquire white man's civilization. While the last frontier has vanished, these thousands of Indians of the Southwest have been left largely to shift for themselves instead of being helped to useful citizenship. "Americanization" for these men and women, whose ancestors were Americans when Columbus arrived, may be hardly the right term, but there are great possibilities of making them useful additions to American life. A great part of the work of helping the Indians up from the condition of a blanketed nomad to the status of a twentieth century human is being accomplished by the home missions of the evangelical group of the Protestant churches co-operating in the Interchurch World Movement. Missionaries of this group have rendered unselfish service in spreading among the Indians education, a knowledge of modern medicine, surgery and sanitation, as well as looking to their spiritual development and the raising of their standards.

The Interchurch World Movement will expand and co-ordinate all the missionary endeavor of the organizations involved, covering a much greater field.

AMPHITHEATER TO HONOR SOLDIER DEAD IS OPENED

WASHINGTON—Declaring the structure a fitting tribute to America's war dead, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker delivered a dedication address from the rostrum of the Arlington Memorial Amphitheater at the National Cemetery here. The guard of honor preceded the speakers to the huge marble building. Under the colonnade are crypts where distinguished soldiers and sailors will be buried. The amphitheater will be used for ceremonies such as Memorial Day exercises.

ONE KILLED IN TROLLEY CRASH

near Geiser's Switch. A heavy summer car had jumped the track near Highfield on Saturday morning and the line crew under the direction of Mr. Sefton, had gone to the scene of this derailment.

The car had been placed back on the track and was being pushed down the mountain by a closed car, to which was attached a heavy truck car loaded with wrecking tools and equipment. These three cars were controlled by the power of the middle car, with Mr. Sefton acting as motorman. The regular passenger car had left for Waynesboro a few minutes before these three cars and was about a half mile in advance.

Just after rounding the curve at the second trip, the brakes on the work car refused to hold and the three cars started on their wild dash down the mountain side, reaching a speed of 50 miles an hour. The cars gained quickly on the passenger car and in a moment crashed into this trolley filled with passengers. The four cars were carried down the track about 200 feet, when the front trolley jumped the track and the runaways piled up behind it.

When the crash came, the front truck of the car which Mr. Sefton was running, was driven clear under the rear end of the car in front. The transformer jumped crushing the front platform on which he was standing and catching him beneath the wreckage. The passenger car was knocked from the track and the rear end and platform broken in and the body of the car partly torn from the truck. Fortunately, the car was a steel one, for had it been one of the wooden models, probably many of the passengers would have been killed.

PEN MAR NOT TO OPERATE

Will Wait Two Years To Use Charter.

At a meeting of the Pen Mar Improvement Association held last week at Crout's at Pen Mar, after hearing the reports of the committees appointed at a recent meeting of the citizens, it was decided that the association would not function for two years under the charter.

The report of the committees, there were two of five each, representing residents of Pen Mar limits and those living outside, showed that there were three main objections to the charter.

That it contains harsh powers concerning the rights of property owners to vote on bond issues; unalterable opposition to the floating vote; a three month's residence giving persons the right to vote, and against the proposition to take in many miles of road which the property owners would be required to maintain.

HAS PEAK OF PRICES BEEN REACHED?

The Daily papers all over the land are giving sensational reports of lowered prices on Merchandise in RETAIL HANDS.

We are in daily touch with producers and selling agents all over the land, and we find the price trend upward rather than downward. In the New England Textile Mills there is much unrest among the workers who insist on sharing, by larger wages, in the reported profits of the Mills—and thousands are out now on strike thereby adding to the scarcity of goods; the increased cost in transportation and the reported shortage in all kinds of goods—all this makes for higher prices rather than lower so that wherever there has been a lowering of prices any where it has been done at the expense of the retailer. Our own Judgment leads us to prophesy a readjustment in prices but we see no radical price changes in textiles soon. There is always an "end of the season clearance"—which the newspapers are now playing on, but in the every day, or bread and butter goods of the nation, we see no immediate lowering of prices.

Under all exigencies of business these days we are ready to supply our customers wants at the lowest possible prices in this or any other condition of affairs, carrying a stock and assortment that is not even approached by stores in towns the size of Gettysburg.

NEW PRICES ON SILKS

Owing to the condition in the raw silk market—silk fabrics have been reduced in price—the only item in our extensive lines that has had a price adjustment lower, and even now higher prices are being asked for future orders. To meet this unsettled condition we have taken the balance of our stock and made new clean up prices—to this balance we have added certain new purchases of wanted weaves and marked them at about 20 per cent less than former prices.

$2.60 for 35 in. Messaline, Black & Colored, reduced from $3.00.

$2.60 for 35 in. Taffeta, Black & Colored, reduced from $3.00.

$2.60 for 40 in. Crepe de Chine, Colored, reduced from $3.00.

$2.60 for 40 in. Georgettes, reduced from $3.00.

$3.00 for 32 in. Shirting Stripes, reduced from $3.75.

$3.40 for 35 in. Fancy Plaids & Stripes, reduced from $4.00.

$5.00 for 32 in. Satin Radium, reduced from $6.00.

Many others—in short lengths—still further reduced.

All the Odds & Ends of Silk & Lingerie Waists—Children's Clothes—and Women's Dresses in Gingham and Voile—white and colored—are reduced in price for quick clearance; in fact almost every department has its regular Mid Summer Clearance prices in order to reduce present stock.

SILK & WOOL DRESSES—RE-MARKED

Georgettes—plain & figured effects—Satin & Georgette Combinations, Foulards, Taffetas, Crepe de Chine, Wool Serges, Tricotines &c.—Nearly all new models for dressy afternoon or evening occasions, Sport models &c.—many featuring the Accordion pleated effects, Bouffant effects, Straight lines. Short, full length or three-quarter sleeves. Some with elaborate beading, wool or silk embroidery, ribbons, buttons &c., also braiding.

A saving of quite a lot on prices we sold these goods at earlier.

TAILORED SUITS

We have about 100 Tailored Suits left, notwithstanding the discount deduction sale which lowered the stock—but we still have splendid choice and there is an opportunity to get the going away or vacation Suit at from 33 1-3 to 50 per cent under reorder prices.

These Suits are of "Wooltex" and other makes of the first class, and are of Poiret Twills, Tricotines, Manish Serge, Worsted Jersey, and most of them in up to date styles—but they must be closed out soon.

JAPAN IS READY TO TAKE STAND FOR NEW ORDER

Dr. J. H. Scott Predicts Great Future Under Leadership of Young Christians.

MILLIONS FOR NEW SCHOOLS.

Baptists to Spend Huge Sum to Give Christian Training to Young Men and Women of Japan.

Religious leaders in America are watching with interest the struggle going on in Japan between the military and the progressive parties, according to Dr. J. H. Scott, of the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society who is preparing to return to Japan after a year's furlough. For twenty-seven years Dr. Scott has been in the Flowery Kingdom and it is partly on his recommendation that the Baptists have decided to spend a million and a half dollars there between now and April 1924.

Over $200,000 will be invested in the Mable Memorial School at Yokohama, while $400,000 will go to the Christian college at the same place. Practically every dollar of the appropriation for Japan will be used for educational purposes except $30,000 set apart for fifteen church buildings.

In the present cabinet, largely made up of progressives, Dr. Scott sees the final overthrow of autocracy and militarism. Old policies are giving way in the face of the modern ideas of the young men and women of Japan, many of whom are Christians, educated in the Christian colleges that have sprung up in Japan within the last fifty years, he says.

"We owe to this progressive anti-militaristic party our strongest moral support, and every assistance to the mission effort in Japan will be a direct contribution to the cause of peace and hasten the coming of the day when the military spirit and the autocratic policy will be no more," said Dr. Scott.

"Japan will lead the Far East in commerce, industry and invention as well as in education and art," he added, "but there is a still greater mission for Japan and that is as a leader in the principles of truth, liberty and righteousness. Not many years ago she was in the grip of a despotic feudal system. She had a cruel caste system under which the man of lower caste had no more rights than a dog. That has been done away with. Her people once had no religious rights and her women once were mere chattels. Wonderful reforms have been accomplished but none more pronounced than the granting of religious freedom to the people and the recognition of women as equals with men."

According to Dr. Scott, Japan has been unable to build schools fast enough. Ninety-seven per cent of the children of school age are being educated. Industrial schools have opened and yearly turn out hundreds of graduates. In Osaka more than 2,000 girls were graduated last year.

$76,191,929 TO BE SPENT IN AMERICA

Northern Baptists Plan Huge Sum to Be Devoted to Schools and Colleges.

Although the Northern Baptists are planning practically to double the extent of their mission work in foreign fields during the next five years as a part of the New World Movement, more than three-quarters of the $100,000,000 they purpose raising in a campaign from April 25 to May 2 will be spent on this side of the Atlantic.

The apportionment made shows $76,191,929 will be spent in America, including $30,010,000 for Baptist schools and colleges, and $28,808,071 will be devoted to the foreign work of the denomination for the five-year period.

The amount allotted to both home and foreign work is far in excess of any previous expenditure of the denomination in a like period and the raising of the $100,000,000 within a single week is regarded by the Northern Baptists as the greatest financial undertaking that they have ever entered upon. The $100,000,000 budget includes only the general extension work of the denomination, generally classified as "benevolence," and does not include the budgets of the local churches. In 1918 the total estimated value of the church property of the churches included in the Northern Baptist Convention was $14,817,300. The amount raised that year for church expenses and benevolence was $17,351,524. Of this amount $13,078,982 was for expenses and $3,372,542 for benevolence. It will be seen that the $100,000,000 which the Baptists are to raise this spring for their five-year program of benevolence means that the largest previous annual contribution of the church for that purpose will be multiplied nearly six-fold.
